Dear Mgr Berith,

139th MEETING AIR FORCES FLIGHT SAFETY COMMITTEE (EUROPE)

On behalf of the delegates from the 25 nations who attended the 139th meeting of the Air Forces Flight Safety Committee (Europe) in Bratislava, I write to thank you for the very interesting presentation given by your staff on the safety of ATM and the application of complex aviation simulation technology for training pilots and ATC. In the current climate of financial difficulties, the use of good quality simulators will help maintain the competency and currency of aircrew and other aviation professionals, as well as help improve standards. Our challenge is understanding what is the correct balance between live and simulated aviation.

Once again, very many thanks for your support to a very successful conference and please pass our gratitude to those members of your staff who participated.

Yours sincerely,
